How to Get Here

Atlanta Airport Information:

The Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport (airport code: ATL) services the Greater Atlanta area. It is the busiest airport in the world, so there are some considerations when flying in/out of this airport. The Atlanta airport is divided into the South terminal (primarily Delta) and the North terminal (other airlines). When leaving out of Atlanta, we recommend you arrive at the airport 2 hours ahead of your scheduled departure. Allow for between 30 minutes to 1 hour to get from DMF or your hotel to the airport, depending on traffic (rush hour begins about 4pm). Visit the Atlanta airport web site at www.atlanta-airport.com for more information.

MARTA Directions from Atlanta Airport:

MARTA is the Metro Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority. The Atlanta Airport is the southern end of the North-South MARTA rail line. Take MARTA north to the Midtown Station (N4). During business hours, call DMF and someone can pick you up from the station. Or contact your hotel in advance to arrange a shuttle from the airport or the nearest MARTA station.
